Suicide or Accident?

TWO THEORIES ARE ADVANCED in the investigations that are being conducted into the tragic death of the world's third richest man, Capt. Alfred Leventhal, Belgium's "flying financier" who either committed suicide by jumping from his plane, 1000 feet above the English Channel, or accidentally stepped into space from the door of the cabin of his private plane in which he was making a business trip from England to France. This composite photograph depicts his plunge to death.

ITALIA CREW NEAR INSANITY

VIRGO BAY, Spitzbergen July 10.—(U.P.)—The spectre of insanity appeared today in the camp of four haggard Italians who since May 24 have fought a losing battle with hunger and cold on an ice floe off Northeastland where they were cast with six companions when the Italia was wrecked.

Since the crash of the Italia two of the men have died, three wandered on the ice and were lost and General Umberto Nobile, the commander who was rescued, lies ill in a cabin of his base ship, Citta di Milano.

The desperate plight of the four men was indicated in a message from the rescue ship Krassin, two and one-half miles from the encampment, which said one of the Italians, apparently insane from hunger, cold and fatigue, had wandered from the camp. This message was not confirmed by last report from the camp radio, silent now for hours, which pleaded for aid.

G. Diago, the wireless operator who had been crawling from his silk tent to give word of the castaways, sent this message: "We are losing courage, and are increasingly despondent. Rush help to us quickly. Rescue seems so near and yet so far."

River Gives Up Body Of Mother And Little Son

REDDING, July 10.—(U.P.)—The treacherous waters of Trinity river today gave up the bodies of Jack Fiske, 9, and his mother Mrs. Hazel Fiske of Sacramento, who was drowned in a vain attempt to save her boy.

Jack was caught in a whirlpool of the river and when he went down his mother went into the river after him.

DE MOLAYS TO MEET

The Richmond chapter of De Molay will hold a stated meeting tonight with Master Councillor Ray Anderson in charge. There will be a program and refreshments. All members are urged to be in attendance.

ENJOY WEEK END

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Shumacher have returned to their home in Gaynor avenue after spending an enjoyable week-end visiting friends in Marysville.

Hoover Spurns Democrat Quiz On Farm Ideas

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(U.P.)—Herbert Hoover declined to answer W. H. Settle, president of the Indiana farm bureau federation as to his "personal position" on agricultural problems, it was said at Hoover's office today.

According to reports from Albany, Governor Smith, the democratic nominee, in reply to a similar telegram from Settle made a complete statement as to his intention, if he is elected.

Two reasons were given at Hoover's office for failure to answer Settle.

1. The republican nominee has declined repeatedly to make any political statement until his formal acceptance speech on August 11th.

2. Settle is a democrat, it was said and the republican nominee has no intention of replying to democratic questioners.

Forgery Lands Man In Prison

W. T. Sweeney, 34, St. Mary's College graduate, who was wanted on two felony charges of issuing checks with no funds in the bank, and who victimized former classmates in many California cities, yesterday pleaded guilty to forgery at Stockton and was sentenced to 1 to 14 years in San Quentin.

A. T. Randall of Martinez, and George E. Barnett, Richmond bank manager and former classmate of Sweeney were the complainants. Sweeney was convicted of forging a check for $50 on a Stockton bank.

MOONSHINERS MIGRATE

LANCASTER, Pa., July 10.—(U.P.)—Driven from their homes in the south by the activities of prohibition agents, moonshiners are invading Pennsylvania in large numbers, officials of the Pennsylvania State Police say.

Recent raids along the Maryland border line in the mountain sections near here, have revealed that the population is increasing rapidly. The majority of the newcomers are moonshiners from the Carolinas, state police say.

PLANS VACATION

Miss Thelma Hecker, 224 Chancelor avenue will spend the next two weeks vacationing in Los Angeles.

POLICE PROBE THEFT ATTEMPT

Police are mystified as to the motives of the burglar or burglars who broke into offices and lodge rooms of the Odd Fellows building Sunday and after ransacking drawers and closets departed without taking any loot.

The doors of five rooms in the building, including the offices of Dr. E. R. Guinan and the Odd Fellows meeting rooms, were "jimmied" by the intruders.

Dr. Guinan reported while nothing was stolen, aside from a butcher knife, which was missing, drawers and grips were ransacked and their contents strewn about the rooms. He expressed the opinion that the intruders might have been seeking dope, since they confined their attentions to places where drugs might be kept. The adjoining office, formerly occupied by Dr. H. J. Gentry, was also entered.

In the lodge rooms, the looters ransacked every corner of the rooms after forcing an entry. Paraphernalia and ritual goods were scattered about the floor and the door to one of the lockers was forced from its hinges after the thieves had found it impossible to "jimmy" the lock.

A butcher knife, believed to be the one missing from Dr. Guinan's office, was found here.

George Black, president of the Odd Fellows Hall association, stated last night that the damage done was small and could in all probability be covered by $25.

The matter was reported to the Richmond police Monday morning and an investigation was started at once. The burglary is believed to have taken place late Sunday night.

Calistoga Pastor To Address Kiwanis

W. P. BARES EXPANSION PLAN Lyon, Warner To Arrive Today

IMPROVED RAIL SERVICE TO BE PROVIDED CENTRAL STATE; COST 13 MILLION

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—New and improved transportation facilities for Central California, involving the construction of 174 miles of railroad at an approximate cost of $13,500,000, were announced in connection with the filing of incorporation papers with the Secretary of State at Sacramento today for the Western Pacific California Railroad company, a subsidiary of the Western Pacific Railroad company.

The articles of incorporation of the new company, which is capitalized at $15,000,000, provide for a line of railroad from San Francisco, via Redwood City, to Niles, and also from Niles, a station on the main line of the Western Pacific, 11 miles south-west of Stockton, to Bakersfield, via Fresno. The incorporators of the Western Pacific California company are E. W. Mason, Charles Elsey, D. C. DeGraff, W. G. Bruen and H. M. Adams.

Inquiry at the general offices of the Western Pacific Railroad company developed the fact that applications will be made to the Interstate Commerce Commission for certificates of convenience and necessity under which the following lines may be constructed at once.

(1) By the Western Pacific California Railroad company from San Francisco to Redwood City and also from Niles, a station on the main line of the Western Pacific, to Kings River via Fresno.

(2) By the Sacramento Northern Railway from a junction with the Holland Branch to Ryde.

(3) By the Western Pacific company for a branch from Brack, a station on the main line of the Western Pacific 16 miles north of Stockton.

Ten central California counties are directly concerned in this construction: San Francisco, San Mateo, Sacramento, Yolo, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Merced, Madera, Fresno and Tulare. It is the most extensive project of its kind in the West.

The official spotlight again is turned on "Dr." Orlando Miller, who bilked hundreds of Richmond and Eastbay residents out of many dollars in connection with sale of stock in the Reilmo Film company.

Or rather, officials wish they could turn the spotlight on the dapper "doctor."

Miller, wanted on a charge of using the mails to defraud, has vanished from his Vancouver hotel, eluding United States deputy marshals who had been awaiting his appearance at the Canadian border.

Federal authorities believe Miller escaped from Canada on a steamship bound for Oriental points. Canadian officials had ordered him to leave the country within ten days.

In an effort to bring Miller back into the United States, a marriage certificate was produced to show that Miller was a citizen of this country. Canadian authorities, however, refused to accept this as proof of citizenship. They declared that Miller had served a term in England in 1914 for manslaughter, and that he was not a citizen of the United States.

Miller was indicted by a federal grand jury at San Francisco in connection with his promotion of the Reilmo Film company.

Through the sale of worthless stock he is alleged by federal agents to have swindled hundreds of stockholders a total of approximately $300,000. Much of the stock was sold in Oakland and the Eastbay. The company collapsed shortly after it was formed.

RICH MAN'S COUNTRY

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—(U.P.)—St. Louis police can't put a man in jail if he has plenty of dough. The case of Albert Bruder offers proof of that.

Bruder was arrested for driving his truck in the street car tracks. He was given a ticket and told to take it to the judge.

He did.

Bruder explained that he was hauling 700 pounds of dough from one bakery to another, and that he had not driven on the car tracks the rough street would have ruined the half-risen dough, to be made into coffee cakes and rolls. He was discharged.

MAN, WOMAN FOUND SLAIN IN MOTORCAR NEAR OAKLAND

OAKLAND, July 10.—(U.P.)—Bodies of two persons who were found in an automobile near here were identified as Henry J. Young, 35, and his wife, Roberta, 32, by friends of the couple.

Police inspectors said Young had apparently shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide. Marital difficulties were blamed for the tragedy. The couple had two children.

OAKLAND, Calif., July 10.—(U.P.)

Bullets ended the lives of a young man and woman near here today while they sat in their automobile, but early investigation had failed to reveal their identity or the nature of the crime.

A gun was found in the automobile which had been parked on a secluded road in the foothills, and the theory of murder and suicide was first advanced.

The age of the victims was about 25, according to Clifford M. Grey, who discovered the tragedy while blood was still flowing from the victims' wounds.

Police were sent from here to investigate.

The automobile was an expensive make, Grey reported, and the man had been shot through the head and the woman through the neck.

Will Prosecute To Full Extent Of Two Canines

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., July 10.—(U.P.)—Sporadically and vacationists planning to visit the Greenhorn mountain district are being warned not to encroach on the premises of an aged homesteader near the entrance to whose ranch a deputy found tucked to a tree a proclamation reading as follows:

"NOTES:
"Trespassers on this here property will be prosecuted to the full extent of two dogs what ain't over kind to strangers and a double barrel shotgun which ain't loaded with pills.

EASTBAY, S.F. PREPARED TO FETE FLIERS

Thousands of residents of the bay cities were prepared today to welcome Captain Harry Lyon and James Warner, American heroes of the Oakland to Australia flight, when they step ashore in San Francisco this morning from the S. S. Malala, and later when the two intrepid fliers will be guests of Oakland and Eastbay cities.

Following the reception in San Francisco, which will be attended by members of the Oakland welcome committee and hundreds of residents of this section, the fliers will be transported across to Oakland on the destroyer Golden Gate, where another huge welcome will be accorded the two men.

It is expected that the Golden Gate will steam to the Oakland locks around the noon hour today, when the triumphant procession up Broadway will be made while airplanes soar over head, bands play and tons of paper from office windows add to the carnival display.

Following the city hall reception, Lyon and Warner will proceed to the Hotel Oakland for the feature of their welcome-home program, a luncheon-reception under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. E. B. Field, president of the chamber will preside and will present the airmen with the gold medals purchased through funds subscribed by Oakland citizens.

N. Y. Attorney To Head Elks

MIAMI, July 10.—(U.P.)—Murray Hulbert, New York lawyer, was elected grand exalted ruler of the benevolent and protective order of the Elks at the second session at the annual convention here today.

Los Angeles was chosen the meeting place for the 1929 convention, receiving 742 votes against 272 for El Paso, Texas, the only competitor.

Hulbert was elected over Leo Merriweather, St. Louis, who received 132 votes to Hulbert's 904.

Lecture Heard By Exchangeites

Leo T. Daley, of the Oakland sales department of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company, delivered an interesting illustrated lecture before the members of the Richmond Exchange club last night in the Hotel Carquinez. The films showed the manufacture of vitreous china, enameled iron and brass products manufactured by the company at its Richmond plant.

The dinner meeting was the first under the new officers with John Moore presiding. Ralph Washburn was chairman of the day.

WOMEN AS VOTERS

The British Parliament enfranchised women who were over 30 years of age, and, following agitation, appears now near enactment of legislation extending the suffrage to women who are 21 years of age. The discussion has brought out that the estimate of flapper votes is 5,000,000.

If all women over 21 in England voted as a sex, they would have a majority over male voters of two million. There is some speculation as to what influence the flapper vote will have on the policies of the empire, whether it will go Tory or Labor; whether it will follow Stanley Baldwin and the house of lords or Ramsey MacDonald.

To citizens of the United States this speculation seems idle. The notion that women would vote as a sex has been exploded in this country where it has been demonstrated that for the most part women in democratic families vote democratic and women in republican families vote republican. It will be so in England, too. It is absurd to think that the mere accident of sex supplies a community of interest between the daughter of an English peer and the daughter of a Welsh coal miner.

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

Julie Says—

A lovely frock for summer wear is this one of shantung a popular material for sports or any day-time wear. Never before have I seen it made up into so many charming colors and varied attractive designs. This one has a creamy white background with flowers of red and green. Have you noticed how much the primitive colors are being used in designs this summer? Especially in material for sport wear. Red, white, blue and green in all their natural colorful colors seem to predominate. A creamy tinted belt with slippers to match and a large hat of natural ballmuffin complete a picture good for the love of a summer's day.

BEAUTY

By LAURA LANE

My dear Laura Lane: My skin is dark and oily and is inclined to break out. I am careful to cleanse it carefully and to use the hot water and ice treatment you spoke of, but the results have not been all I'd hoped for. Isn't there something else I can do?

—ANN.
Although thorough cleansing is essential to smooth, clear skin, it is, after all, only a superficial remedy. Possibly the unhealthful condition of your skin can be traced to indulgence in rich, oily foods. Cut these out of your diet and eat more fresh vegetables and fruits. Get in the habit of drinking a glass of water before breakfast every morning and plenty during the day.

The next time you and your friends go to luncheon before the matinee, listen with scorn while they order fried chicken, creamed potatoes, and pie. Then, feeling very virtuous and superior, surprise them by ordering a vegetable luncheon, milk and tomato and lettuce salad. The effect of your nobility on your friends will compensate you for abstaining from the rich dishes.

A superficial treatment for complexion like yours is the mud pack. A simple homemade pack can be made by mixing Fuller's earth and witch hazel.

Not so long ago, the fad of mud packs swept the country and literally spattered the face of every woman who reads advertisements. Now they are almost forgotten and perhaps it is just as well for mud packs, though they are often anything but beneficial. But for sallow, oily skin, an occasional application of Fuller's earth and witch hazel is excellent.

Walnut Creek City Council Doooms Trees

WALNUT CREEK, July 10.—Time was, and not so many years ago either, when the cooling shade of the 30 year old Walnut trees in front of the Bradley Brothers and H. A. Bennett property were welcome to both man and beast after the long, hot and dusty trek over the rural roads of a pre-pavement era.

But those days have passed and the modern suburbanite, protected from the sun in his enclosed car, needs the shade no more than does his gasoline buggy. Besides other business men in the block have complained about the big shade trees which they say are a detriment to trade, and mar the metropolitan aspect of the town's main street. So in view of these conditions, the council has ordered the trees cut down.

Will Probates Are Requested

Probate of the will of the late Same G. Little of Richmond, was asked in the superior court yesterday by Mrs. Rebecca E. Little, the widow, to whom the estate was willed. The estate does not exceed $10,000 in value.

Little died in Richmond, June 19, 1928. Attorney Lee D. Windrem represented Mrs. Little. Letters of administration were asked in the estates of Clement Viano of Vine Hill, and John V. Azevedo of San Pablo. The former left a 43 acre vineyard and farming land estate, of value less than $5000. The petitioner is Mrs. Mary Viano. The latter left lots and a home in San Pablo, lots in Pullman and an automobile. The estate is less than $10,000 in value. The petitioner is Mrs. B. Azevedo.

This projected development is in line with the plan and policy of the Western Pacific Railroad company, a large interest in which property was purchased by Arthur Curtiss James of New York in 1926. The plan includes the improvement of the properties of the Western Pacific Railroad company and its subsidiary and affiliated lines, also the acquiring or construction of new lines, all with the intent and for the purpose of increasing its business.

In accordance with this plan it is the purpose to construct these new lines, which will serve territory not adequately provided with transportation service by rail, as soon as the necessary certificates of public convenience and necessity can be obtained from the Interstate Commerce Commission in accordance with the application outlined above.

The San Francisco-Redwood City line will be 25 miles in length, and will cost approximately $3,700,000. Construction of this line is the initial step toward providing the Western Pacific with a through all-rail line to San Francisco via Niles and Redwood City. The San Francisco-Redwood City line will serve a section of the city and county of San Francisco, and San Mateo county, including the water front of San Francisco bay from Islais Creek to Redwood City.

The line from Niles to Kings River, via Fresno, will be 138 miles in length and will cost approximately $8,500,000. It will traverse the San Joaquin valley east of the San Joaquin river and will enter the city of Fresno from the west.

The extension of the Holland branch of the Sacramento-North line, which is now under construction from Riverview, Yolo county, calls for the construction of

CAPITAL ASKS OLD-FASHIONED INAUGURATION

BY KENNETH CRAWFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, July 11.—(U.P.)—Washington is planning an old-fashioned inaugural celebration for the winner of the next presidential election, be it Secretary of Commerce Hoover or Governor Smith of New York.

Once the most festive and elaborate of national events, the inaugural has become in recent years a hurried, business-like affair almost devoid of pageantry. But this year Washington civic leaders are determined to revive the ceremony in all its pre-war splendor.

This is to be an old time stump speaking, torchlight-parading campaign, they point out, and the inauguration should be fitting at the climax. They want a parade down Pennsylvania avenue, an inaugural ball, a White House reception and all the events that once marked change in national leadership.

Incidentally, they want the crowds that such an affair would attract with the money such a crowd would bring. Washington is not unlike any other city in that respect. Here, as everywhere, the firecracker merchant is most enthusiastic for patriotic demonstrations on the Fourth of July.

A typical expression from one of the civic leaders planning for the inaugural of 1929, printed in a Washington newspaper, follows: "Unquestionably no matter which side is elected, we ought to go back to the old time inauguration. Certainly it is to the interest of the people of Washington—it would undoubtedly bring a great deal of money into the city and someone who employs will get the money. I am absolutely in favor of an old-fashioned inaugural. It is no secret that the White House has been more aloof from the city during recent administrations than Washingtonians would have it. The executive mansion should be the center of social life as much as of official activity, they believe."

Although social customs and traditions have been maintained by successive occupants of the White House, there has been a disposition on the part of recent presidents to reduce them to a necessary minimum.

Under permit granted last June by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Western Pacific will begin not later than August 1 the construction of a connection between its main line and the Oregon Short Line at Wells, Nevada, which will afford a new route between points in Central California and points in Idaho and Montana. This construction will cost approximately $150,000.

The Western Pacific supported application of the Northern California Railroad company to complete a line of railroad from Westwood to Crescent Mills connecting at that point with the Indian Valley railroad and thence with the Western Pacific at Paxton, thereby creating a shorter and easier route from the timber belt lying north of the Western Pacific to Central California. Construction of 16 miles of railroad at an approximate cost of $400,000 is involved in this application which has been heard and which is awaiting the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Interests allied with the Western Pacific Railroad have contracted to acquire complete ownership of the Indian Valley Railroad provided the Northern California Railroad company is enabled to complete the line from Westwood to Crescent Mills.

On January 1, 1928, the Western Pacific, under permission of the Interstate Commerce Commission, purchased a one-third interest in the Central California Traction company. This is an electric line operating between Sacramento and Stockton, 65 miles in length.

During 1927 interests affiliated with the Western Pacific purchased practically all of the common and preferred stock of the San Francisco-Sacramento Railroad (Sacramento Short Line) an electric line 87 miles in length and operating between Oakland and Sacramento.

The Western Pacific, having purchased one half interest in the Alameda Belt Line and made a contract for the purchase of the Union Belt Railway of Oakland, has made application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for the necessary certificate of convenience and necessity to enable it to build a rail connection with both of the belt lines. The expenditure involved in the purchase of the Union Belt Railway of Oakland and the construction of the connection is estimated at $650,000. This case has been heard and is now pending in the Com-

Services For Rodeo Resident Held Here

Funeral services were held from the Wilson and Kratzer chapel yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Emma L. Allen of Rodeo who passed away Sunday. Following services in the chapel, cremation took place in the Berkeley crematory. Deceased, who was 78 years old, had been a resident of the state for the past 36 years and of Rodeo for three years. She is survived by her husband, Chester H. Allen of Yountville; a son, Chester Allen of Rodeo; a daughter, Mrs. T. E. Larson of Rodeo, and a sister, Mrs. Laura Ruth of Des Moines.

Novel Alibi Fails Before Judge Odell

Police Judge C. A. Odell yesterday fined Edward Halbaugh of San Francisco $15 for speeding 47 miles per hour along Cutting boulevard. Halbaugh declared that his six-cylinder car which he was driving at the time had more speed than he realized as he was accustomed to driving a four cylinder car. The arrest was made by Traffic Officer Chas. Hains.

KNIFE WELDER NABBED AFTER LENGTHY CHASE

Eighteen months, to the day, after he fiendishly attacked Felicia Arbones, widow and mother of two children, in her home in Crockett, Jesus Martinez, 30, former employee of the Pittsburgh steel mill, was recognized by a former acquaintance in Quincy, Plumas county, yesterday and turned in to the Sheriff as being a man wanted for murder in Contra Costa county.

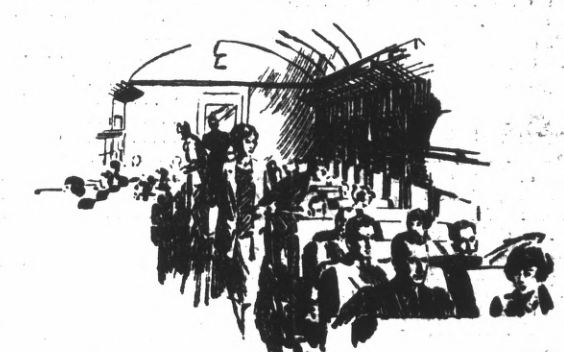

Martinez's victim survived mangled knife wounds although one ear was cut off and her back, chest and arms slashed with a long knife and now resides at 170 Third street, Pittsburg. Her two children are wards of the juvenile court. Deputy Sheriff J. M. Joseph left yesterday for Quincy to bring Martinez to Martinez to stand trial for assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

Martinez is accused of hiding in the closet of Mrs. Arbones' home and suddenly attacking the woman when she returned late in the evening of January 9, 1927. The woman's assailant fled to the hills and the following day a partially burned suitcase was found, to furnish the authorities with a new mystery which baffled solution for months.

FORT MUNCY UNVEILING
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., July 10.—(U.P.)—A huge tablet marking the spot where old Fort Muncy once stood is to be unveiled here today on the 150th anniversary of the forced abandonment of the fort by the pioneer settlers. Following abandonment of the fort and the West Branch Valley the stockade was burned by Indians and Tories.

GRID HEROES SELDOM SHINE IN BIG LOOPS

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Sports Writer

Star football players seldom shine in major league baseball uniforms but there are two gridiron heroes fresh from the college campus who are blazing a bright trail around the American League this season.

Emile (Lovely) Barnes, former Alabama quarterback, has stepped into the Speaker's place in the Washington Senators' outfield and made good in sensational fashion. Larry Beencourt, former St. Mary's College center, has placed the long weak gap at third base in the St. Louis Browns' infield.

Barnes and Beencourt are two of the most highly prized finds of the season. Barnes has been fielding and hitting brilliantly from the moment Bucky Harris assigned him to play center field. He was with the Senators for a time last season, having come up from the Birmingham Southern League club. Beencourt did not join the Browns until after the season started but once he was given a chance he made good at once.

One day late in June, as if fate had a hand in the proceedings, Barnes and Beencourt added baseball fame to their football laurels each by winning a game single-handed. On the same day Barnes hit two home runs which accounted for every run the Senators made in beating the Athletics 4 to 2, and Beencourt crashed a home run with the bases filled to give the Browns a 6 to 3 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Barnes was captain and quarterback of the undefeated Alabama football team of 1926. After winning the Southern title, the Crimson Tide met Stanford in the Tournament of Roses Game at Pasadena New Year's Day, 1927. The game ended in a 7-7 tie.

Beencourt was center and backbone of the brilliant St. Mary's eleven which has won fame on the Pacific Coast by frequently defeating the better known western teams. St. Mary's was unbeaten in 1926, defeating California by a top heavy score. Beencourt was at the height of his game in 1927, winning the center berth on the All-American football team for that year.

With Barnes and Beencourt fast dispelling the belief that football players can't make the grade in fast baseball company, football followers are anxiously awaiting the outcome of Bruce Caldwell's fling at Major League baseball.

Caldwell, Yale's All-American halfback last season, turned down a chance to join the New York Yankees to cast his lot with the Cleveland Indians. The Yanks wanted Caldwell badly but only on the condition that he would agree not to play professional football. Caldwell wanted to play professional football and the Indians were willing to take him on any basis.

Lou Gehrig, Yankee's first baseman, played fullback on the Columbia University team before he entered baseball but he was never the star on the gridiron he was on the diamond, even in college. Andy Cohen, Giant's second baseman, and Andy Reese, Giant's outfielder, were stars on the freshman football teams at Alabama and Vanderbilt respectively, but gave up football for baseball.

Jim Thorpe, the old Carlisle Indian star, and Ernie Nevers, former Stanford star, are two of the saddest cases of football players who failed at baseball. Hinkley Haines and Glenn Killinger are two others who never lived up to their promise.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. It works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

OLYMPIC CHIEF QUILTS IN ROW OVER PADDOCK

BOSTON, July 10.—(U.P.)—Declaring the decision of the Olympic committee to allow Charlie Paddock to compete in the Olympic games would "promote the growth of suspicion and enmity" instead of "friendly international relations," George W. Wightman, leading New England Olympic official, today resigned from the Olympic committee.

If we send an accredited representative an athlete about whom there are notorious complaints concerning his amateur status," Wightman said in a letter to Major General Douglas MacArthur of Baltimore, tendering his resignation. "We destroy the fundamental purpose of our participation in these international games."

Wightman's letter to MacArthur, forwarded by telegraph today, was as follows:

"The fundamental purpose of the Olympic games is to promote friendly international relations through competitions between amateur athletes of the nations engaged. If we send as our accredited representatives an athlete about whom there are notorious complaints concerning his amateur status, we destroy the fundamental purpose of our participation in these international relations. We promote the growth of suspicion and enmity."

One of the important duties of the American Olympic committee is to select athletes to represent the United States who are above reproach as amateurs. Members of the American Olympic committee at a meeting July called and held July seventh, considered very carefully upon Mr. Paddock's amateur status and on account of those doubts voted not to name him as a representative of the United States. Except for Mr. Weaver, who was a powerful advocate for Mr. Paddock's side of the issue, the members voted unanimously. The result today is that Mr. Ferris, another Paddock advocate, and Mr. Weaver are reported to have decided on behalf of the United States that Mr. Paddock shall be its representative.

Jardine Ordered To Secure Rest

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(U.P.)—A complete rest in the quiet and seclusion of Alaska has been ordered for Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, who has suffered a breakdown from overwork.

Although his friends say Jardine's illness is not serious, he has become so fatigued from his pressing departmental matters, that lately he has been able to spend only an hour a day at his desk.

Jardine plans to leave for Alaska on August 1, although it was said that his destination there has not yet been determined. Until that time he will remain in Washington straightening out the affairs of the department.

NEW YORK, July 10.—(U.P.)—

Charles Paddock of Los Angeles, who was cleared of charges of professionalism by the amateur athletic union Monday, gave out the following statement when informed of George W. Wightman's resignation from the American Olympic committee today:

"By resigning from the American Olympic committee, Mr. Geo-

Hitting Held Big Factor In Yankee Drive

BY FRANK GETTY
United Press Sports Editor

The success of the New York Yankees against their American League opponents this season has been due to heavy hitting and psychology rather than to pitching.

Some of the best men on Miller Huggins' hurling staff have been inclined to take things easy and let Babe Ruth and the rest of "Murderers' Row" do the work. George Pipgras of St. Louis, Minn. is one pitcher who has continued to work his head off for the world's champions. As a result, it is probable that George will win between 25 and 30 ball games this season and lead the American League twirlers.

The youngster has not taken advantage of the Yankees' heavy hitting, but has been hearing down and turning in some first class pitching performances. Of course, there have been games this spring in which the fact that the world's champions were amassing a dozen runs or so was a great help to Pipgras. But he has not been guilty of indifferent work such as characterized certain appearances of Waite Hoyt, the blonde mortician, and Herb Pennock, the southpaw farmer.

Pipgras is the tallest as well as the most effective of the New York pitchers, standing 6'01 1/2 and weighing 187 pounds. This height and weight tends to make his fast ball effective, but George depends more upon a fast curve and a deceptive change of pace to win his ball games.

While it was not entirely appreciated at the time, Pipgras was the chief factor in the clean sweep made by the Yankees in the world series of 1927.

The world's champions had won the first game at Pittsburgh by a margin of one run, poor fielding hampering the Pirates, who were, however, full of fight.

Pennock, star of the New York pitching staff, was suffering from a hemorrhage, the result of having been hit by a pitched ball in practice. Wiley Moore was the likely choice for the second game, but Huggins selected Pipgras.

YOUNG ANGLER

ATKINSON, Neb., July 10.—(U.P.)—Carl Frank Hoppe, Atkinson, Neb., is thought to be the youngest member of the Isaak Walton League of America. He joined when he was 10 days old.

W. Wightman and the Olympic athletes are now even. We helped put over the Olympic fund and now he is going to help us by not going to Amsterdam with us."

Lenglen Career Is Nearing End

By RALPH HEINEN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Paris, July 10.—(U.P.)—Far from the enriching guidance of C. C. Pyle, Suzanne Lenglen's professional tennis career is gasping toward an end.

As an amateur, Suzanne undoubtedly was one of the greatest sport attractions of all times and her presence was enough to fill the stands at Wimbledon or draw thousands of sportsmen to Cannes for her "battles of the Century" with Helen Wills.

As a professional, she is now barely earning enough to keep the wolf pack away from the door of the palatial villa of the Lenglen family on the Riviera at Nice. Suzanne has had to resort to autographing tennis balls and selling her testimonials to stocking makers, perfumers and sporting goods manufacturers to eke out a living.

Four Teams Battle For League Lead

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—(U.P.)—Four teams of the Pacific Coast league were again tied for first place tonight due to victories of Seattle and the San Francisco Seals, while Sacramento and Hollywood, leaders before the games started, were losing.

Seattle beat Hollywood, 4-2, while the Seals were defeating Sacramento 6 to 5. Portland won the eighth game of the series with the San Francisco Missions, 5 to 3, and Los Angeles was the other victor, trouncing Oakland, 7 to 3.

The closest game of the day was played here. The score of the contest between the Seals and the Senators was tied, each team having five runs after the seventh inning. Jolley, Seal right fielder, hit a home run in the last of the eighth and it decided the encounter.

The Missions threatened in the closing innings but could not overcome the early lead piled up by the Beavers, when they scored twice in the first inning and three times in the fifth.

The contest between Los Angeles and Oakland was decided in the first inning when the Angels scored four times.

profile reliefs of Lyon and Warner, together with the inscription: "Oakland, Calif., to Sydney, Australia, May 31-June 10, 1928." The opposite side of the memorial medals, explaining their purpose, will read:

"Presented by the citizens of Oakland to Capt. Harry W. Lyon, Jr., (navigator) and James Warner, (radio operator) of the Southern Cross, commemorating the first trans-Pacific flight. The Southern Cross left Oakland, California, May 31, 8:53 a.m. Arrived Sydney, Australia, June 10, 1928, 2:10 p.m. Flying time 87 hours, 33 minutes. Distance, 7,800 miles." The medals themselves will represent the gift of the citizens of Oakland to the state of California. The state of California will be represented by the medals, which are constructed of California redwood burl. Red, white and blue velvet—the national colors—lined the interior of the cases.

Following presentation of the medals, Lyon and Warner will be called upon to relate some of their most thrilling experiences during the Oakland-Sydney flight.

Music during the luncheon will be furnished by the radio station KGO.

An informal reception will follow the luncheon and then Lyon and Warner will cross the bay to San Francisco, where they are to be guests at a civic banquet in the Palace hotel.

Birds, Whales Soon To Come Before League

GENEVA, July 11.—(U.P.)—Birds and whales probably will be taken under the protection of the League of Nations.

As a matter of fact the League already has had a commission of experts at work for some time to see if an international convention cannot be launched relative to whales and other deep-sea fishes. As regards the protection of birds, it is expected that the September assembly of the League of Nations will be asked to summon an international conference for the purpose of launching a new international bird convention to replace the 1902 Paris convention on the subject.

The initiative for placing the protection of migratory birds under the auspices of the league has been taken by the International committee on Bird Protection and members of the League of Nations have promised to support the initiative before the assembly.

The necessity of protecting birds, which is urged especially from the standpoint of agriculture where they maintain a certain balance against the insect world and also from the standpoint of game food.

Death Summons Martha Schow

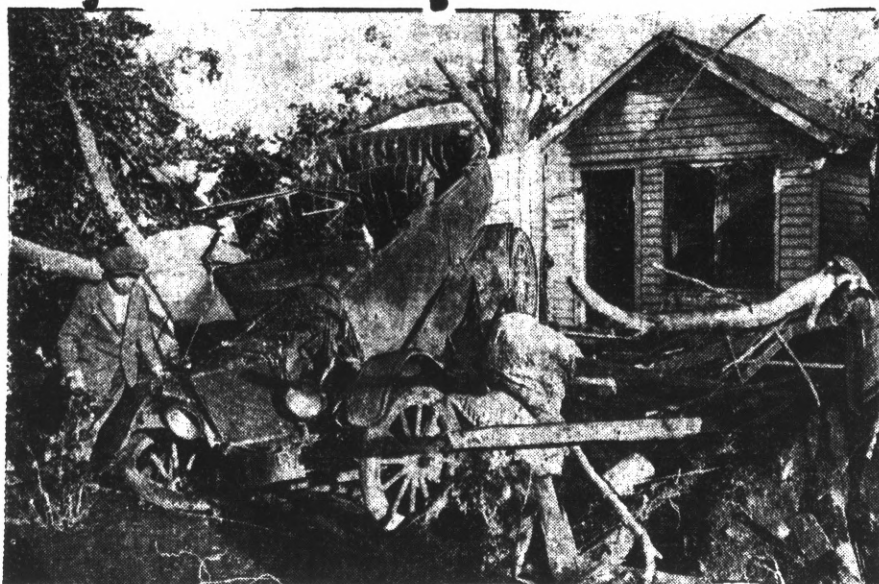

Mrs. Martha Cecelia Schow, 82, mother of F. B. Schow of the Torgery at 1025 Macdonald avenue, passed away at the family home, 921 Barrett avenue, late Monday night.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Wilson and Kratzer chapel with Rev. E. W. Haney, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Cremation will follow in the Berkeley crematory.

In addition to the son living here, she is survived by a son, E. P. Schow of Oakland and two granddaughters, Mrs. Mignon Hill of Los Angeles and Miss Nadine Schow of Richmond.

WALKER STIRS SHANGHAI TRIO POLITICS ROW ON GHOST HUNT IN HOLLYWOOD IN HONGKONG

HOLLYWOOD, July 10.—(U.P.)—Mayor James Walker of New York today found himself the center of a heated controversy as he continued his fight against alleged discrimination by the film industry in favor of Herbert Hoover's presidential candidacy.

The New York mayor, close friend of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, went directly to the picture industry with his charges when he addressed a gathering of 200 executives, stars and newspapermen at a luncheon given in his honor at the First National Studios.

While the mayor was repeating his claims, Louis B. Mayer and Joseph M. Schenck, producers, issued a statement in reply to a speech by Mayor Walker at a Wampas meeting Monday night in which the New York executive first accused the industry of being partial.

Walker in his address mentioned no names, but Mayer and Schenck were delegates to the Republican national convention at Kansas City and viewed the remarks as directed at them.

The statement of the producers said:

"As to the personal politics of Mr. Schenck and myself, we are republicans. We are for Hoover, California and our personal friends. Some of the executives of our company are democrats. That is their privilege.

"However, as to attempting to deliver the motion picture industry to any party, that is my idea of wasting time on an extensive scale."

The mayor, "wise cracking" and apparently in high spirits, was late to the luncheon and took occasion to explain his proverbial tardiness.

He claimed that he had formed the habit of being late because the New York newspapers always started their stories of his speeches by saying "The mayor, as usual, was late," and he then had to be late to keep the stories, written in advance, from being wrong.

Walker was offered a motion picture contract with $10,000 a week, but rejected the offer because "there isn't enough money in California to make the mayor of New York be on time," as provided in a clause of the document.

Coleen Moore, Corrine Griffith and other noted stars were in the group that listened to the address.

Mayor Walker was introduced by Ned Martin, First National producer, a friend of long standing.

Martin emphatically stated that politics would have and could have no place in the motion picture industry.

He denied that any influence could be brought to bear that would curtail individual thinking on political subjects within the picture business.

SHANGHAI TRIO ON GHOST HUNT IN HONGKONG

SHANGHAI, July 10.—(U.P.)—Three Shanghai men who don't believe in ghosts have left this city for Hong-kong where they plan to investigate the alleged ghosts of Sung Huang Hill, in Kowloon, the place where the last emperor of the Sung dynasty is said to have hidden himself from his pursuing enemies.

The three non-believers and H. Richmond Curley, J. B. Borman and Alexander McDonough. They informed the United Press that their curiosity has been aroused by the persistent reports from Hong-kong of the strange carriages-on of the "ghosts of Sung Huang Hill."

"Ghosts don't exist and we propose to prove it to the satisfaction of all persons in Hong-kong and Kowloon who think otherwise," Curley, spokesman for the trio declared.

Chinese residents of Shanghai who formerly lived in Kowloon, take much stock in the ghost stories of Sung Huang hill. In all seriousness they will tell of strange moans and groans in the dead of night, of wild cries of tortured men and women, and of white-robed forms flitting mysteriously about the place.

Lee Chai-Ling, an intelligent, educated Chinese of the International Settlement, formerly a tea merchant in Kowloon, swears to the truth of the following story of the haunted hill, which he says, he personally witnessed:

In 1924 three children disappeared while playing in the vicinity of the place. A group of Chinese determined to investigate. Their leader was a powerfully built, fearless Cantonese named Lo Hai-ching.

Lo led the party to within 25 feet of the place. He was about 10 feet in advance of the others when there came a piercing scream from the rear. All heads turned. They could see no one. Turning back, to their consternation they could find no trace of Lo. He had disappeared completely. The party fled in all directions.

Two days later Lo's headless body was found in the bay. The mystery never has been solved. The latest story from the haunted hill is that a prominent Chinese woman was lured to the hill by a young man and an old man. A charm seemed to have enveloped her and she followed them blindly. A bewildered servant was with her. The servant relates that his mistress followed the two men to the edge of a precipice, where the men disappeared.

The woman then exclaimed to her servant that there was something strange behind him. The servant turned. There was nothing. He turned back and his mistress was gone. Her body later was found in the water.

EAGLES AUXILIARY PLANS BOX SOCIAL

A box social will be held by the Point Richmond Auxiliary of Eagles on Friday evening in the Woodmen of the World hall. A good time is anticipated and all members are urged to be present and enjoy the pleasant evening.

Mrs. Viola McChristian, president of the organization will be in charge of the arrangements of the evening.

WOULD END WAR BY DECREASING MONEY SUPPLY

GENEVA, July 10.—(U.P.)—"War on War" is the slogan of a new international organization that has just been launched for the purpose of ending war by purely financial methods.

The new movement, which has the backing of many important financiers, bankers, economists and philanthropists, has undertaken the study of the question of creating an international clearing house association and an international currency guarantee corporation.

The two organizations would play about the same role in international life that clearing houses and currency guarantee associations play in the national life of the various countries where they exist.

The international currency guarantee corporation especially would fix and guarantee for each country a permanent rate of exchange. This, in itself, it is declared, would furnish a sufficient weapon in the hands of the council of the League of Nations to prevent war.

Should any country go to war against the recommendations of the League council, the international currency guarantee corporation would only have to raise its exchange rate for that state to one million, while the clearing house association would suspend all payments and the offending country would be reduced to impotency overnight.

In the past, the promoters of the scheme declare, efforts to prevent war have been confined largely to measures for strengthening the party attack. The real solution, it is insisted, is to provide measures for immediately ruining any country that goes to war, and this can best be done by cutting off all financial resources.

Afghanistan Goes Modern In A Big Way

KABUL, Afghanistan, July 10.—(U.P.)—Western civilization has entered the fastness of Afghanistan. The return of King Amanullah to Kabul after his extensive tour of Europe was the signal for a veritable wave of improvements.

The king has expressed a desire to have the national telephone system increased on a large scale. It is understood here that the subjects of King Amanullah soon will have as easy access to a telephone as is enjoyed in many of the European cities his majesty visited.

Wireless stations are planned which will keep Kabul in continuous contact with events beyond the frontiers. Roads are to undergo improvement to render them suitable for an extensive system of motor coaches between the Afghan towns and across the borders to neighboring countries.

The first consignment of one hundred cars ordered by the king while in Italy has arrived. The consignment includes three fire-engines which it is believed were ordered as a result of the recent fire in Amanullah's motion picture house here.

In governmental matters, Amanullah plans to issue a new coinage as well as the first currency notes ever to be circulated in the country.

A university will be established shortly and primary education is to be made practically compulsory. These and other reforms are taken to indicate how deep an impression the king's trip made upon him.

CHIPMUNKS MEET DOOM

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., July 11.—Asphaltic road oil spread upon the Dalles-California highway in central Oregon between LaPine and Modoc proved a death trap to hundreds of chipmunks.

The oil was heavy, 95 per cent asphaltum, and when laid was extremely sticky. The little rodents scampering across the road with tails high in the air were caught like flies on fly paper to die of starvation or be run over by passing automobiles.

MOVEMENT OF THIRD PARTY IS UNDERWAY

BY W. F. SULLIVAN

United Press Staff Correspondent. CHICAGO, July 10.—(U.P.)—Convinced that the voters of the west and south are displeased with the major party presidential candidates, a definite move to form a coalition third party composed of the prohibition and farmer-labor parties, both in convention here, was in the making tonight.

The two convention groups, meeting separately, decided today that a strong third party ticket was needed in the November election and committees were appointed by each party to meet tonight to discuss the possibilities of a coalition.

The two committees which went into conference were:

Prohibition—H. R. Garver, Pittsburgh; Philip Bennett, Oklahoma City and Lucius C. Dale, Los Angeles.

Farmer-Labor—James Edwin Sparr, El Reno, Okla.; Bert Martin, Denver, Colo., and William V. Mahoney, Washington, D. C.
